Christmas Valley Water System “Outstanding”

During October of last year, the Oregon Health Authority conducted a drinking water survey of the Christmas Valley Domestic Water System. The results, just now released, show the local water system achieved the superior “Outstanding Performance” level.

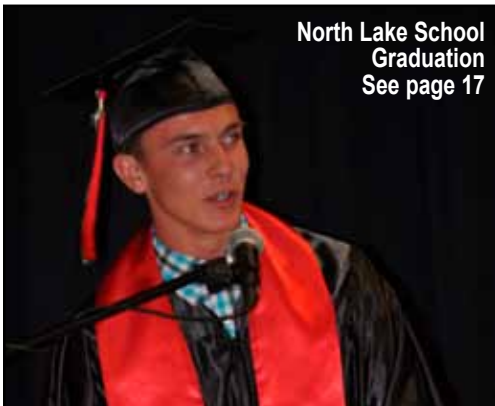

The Oregon Health Authority drinking water program has identified criteria for determining whether a community public water system should be considered to have outstanding performance. This designation is given at the completion of a water system survey, formerly referred to a sanitary survey. A water system survey is an on-site review of a system’s sources, treatment, storage facilities, distribution system, operation and maintenance procedures, monitoring, and management, for the purpose of evaluating the system’s capability of providing safe water to the public. Systems that are designated outstanding performers will have their water system survey frequency reduced from every 3 years to every 5 years.

The criteria for outstanding performance are:

- 1) No Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL), Action Level, or Treatment Technique violations in the last 5 years;
- 2) No more than one Monitoring and Reporting violation in the last 3 years. The one violation must be resolved (results submitted);
- 3) No significant deficiencies or rule violations identified during the current water system survey; and
- 4) Has not had a waterborne disease outbreak attributable to the water system in the last 5 years.

Summer Hours: 7am-9pm

Taken From The Top “Summer Is Icumen In” Katy Matchette

The title above marks the first words of a traditional medieval round sung in Great Britain. For the singers, the cuckoo announced summer’s arrival. Most Christmas Valley dwellers celebrate summer by checking the pivot, but we too celebrate.

We say summer begins officially with the summer solstice—the day when the earth’s axis is tipped most directly toward the sun—and first cutting looms in the near future. This usually happens between June 21 and June 24. However, Europeans often call it Midsummer’s Day. In Finland, on Midsummer’s Day the sun does not go down at all, leading to celebration throughout the night hours.

The peoples of Europe have always celebrated what they often call midsummer. When Christianity came, missionaries and priests turned the attention to Saint John the Baptist and observed it as Saint John’s Eve. However, much of the celebration has not changed. All over the world, even today we find people building bonfires and jumping over them. The common superstition—those who jump over the fires will marry in the following year. These customs spread to Latin America with the colonists—although south of the equator they observe the day during their winter—our summer months.

In Twelfth-Century England, boys burned bones and other rubbish, hoping to drive out the dragons that they believed came out on St. John’s Eve. They also rolled wheels, symbolizing the sun’s turning. During the 1300s women in Cologne France washed their hands and arms in the Rhine on St. John’s Eve. They believed the river would wash away the calamities of the coming year.

Folklore also holds that certain herbs harvested at the summer solstice have greater healing power. Likely this tradition gave the herb Saint John’s Wort its name.

Most of us make no special celebration at the summer solstice, and the semi-pagan practices have faded from American memories. However, we still celebrate the advent of summer. Often on Memorial Day we focus on the “official start of summer” more than on the veterans the day celebrates. July 4 also functions as a summer celebration.

Around here, of course, spending the night on a hay baler is the most common rite of summer. We celebrate alfalfa growing, alfalfa harvesting—the final cutting! Long may it wave.

Finding the pioneer spirit, Jane Kirkpatrick's writing truly makes her readers stop and realize how important our faith and friendships, relationships are in life. For 40 years, Kirkpatrick has opened the door to create stories with history in places we know in Central Oregon. She relates, with love and laughter, and her own family's modern-day struggle to catch a dream in the Oregon Territory. Kirkpatrick believes, "Our lives are the stories that others read first, and encourages readers to discover the power of their own stories to divinely heal and transform."

Join Central Oregon author, Jane Kirkpatrick as she shares her special works with history, landscape, research, relationships and spirituality that untangle her stories. She develops main characters in her stories as women of history, hopeful and seeking peace, love and grace within.

Crack in the Ground

Crack in the Ground is a volcanic fissure over two miles long and up to 70 feet deep, located inside of the Four Craters Wilderness Study Area in Northern Lake County; about 8 miles north of Christmas Valley, Oregon. This location is accessed via a rugged dirt road, but passenger cars can make it.

Latitude: 43°19'57.94"N

Longitude: 120°40'33.81"W

Sagebrush and juniper cover the high desert surrounding lava flows and cinder cones. The length of the fissure can be hiked, as there is an established trail along the fissure's bottom. Normally, fissures like this one are filled in with soil and rock by the processes of erosion and sedimentation, but because Crack in the Ground is located in such an arid region, very little filling has occurred. As a result, Crack in the Ground exists today nearly as it did shortly after its formation. The bottom of the crack can be as much as twenty degrees below the surface temperature.

Back in Thyme Herbals: The Magic of Seeds

Linda McCoslin

In the old days people would grow crops for the seeds to share country-wide to feed numerous populations, thus creating seed banks. As time went on, the government forbade some seed growing unless you belonged to certain organizations that specialized in such seeds for commercial crops. The value of seeds for many purposes has increased immensely!

"...and give us seed, that we may live, and not die, that the land be not desolate."

– Genesis 47:19

The first seed farm was established near Philadelphia by David Landreth, in 1784. From then to now, pungent and aromatic seeds have been employed for many purposes, generally as flavoring in cooking. In ancient times Parkinson wrote, "Caraway is much used to be put among baked fruit, or into bread, cakes, etc., to give them relish."

Fenugreek seeds are used as a condiment in Egypt, and in curries in India. The people of India make a gruel of seeds with sugar and milk. In Mexico, cumin seed is highly valued as an ingredient in chili powders, and the flavor of coriander seed, is a favorite among South Americans, who use it in almost all of their dishes. Fennel was popular with early Romans, who munched the stalks and crowned their warriors with garlands of the leaves. They also used the ground, flavorful seeds to improve the taste of unpleasant medicines. Fennel is now widely used in cookery, and to flavor absinth and other liqueurs. In many parts of the world, people still use seeds as a part of domestic remedies.

Oriental enjoy chewing cardamon seeds to sweeten their breath and for relief from stomach acid. Anise is a valued diuretic, carminative and pectoral. Barley is a strengthening aid in convalescence. Caraway is for upset stomach and gas. Celery is for rheumatism. Burdock seed teas are believed to purify the blood and eliminate or prevent sties and boils. Charles H. Coleman wrote an article in the American Mercury in Feb. 1960, entitled "Seeds That Heal," about men of science discovering and extracting substances in seeds, that may prove valuable as ingredients in many modern medicines. It mentioned research scientists Bianco Magno and Paolo Rovesti, of the Institute for Research on vegetable derivatives in Milan, Italy, take a pile of shelled corn, to which they add water. The grains begin to sprout (without soil they cannot grow), and after germination they make their extractions with a special press with an enormous amount of pressure, squeezing out every drop of the juices, leaving the remains of the seed-hence a dry pomace. Dermatologists have indicated that these juices stimulate and nourish the skin. Consequently, a special cosmetic is made from these juices, the pomace, an antibiotic, and an anti-oxidant.

There are many vitamins in different germinated seed juices. Lupin juice contains vitamin A, the vitamin which is necessary for the health of the eyes and skin. Wheat juice for vitamin E to benefit the heart and reproductive system. Barley juice for vitamin B1, responsible for the health of the nerves and as a preventative of beriberi. It is further said these seeds also contain niacin and vitamin C. Not all varieties of corn contain the same beneficial agents. Maize, a sugary corn contains more niacin than starchy varieties. During tests of Bengal gram, mung, pea, cowpea, Kalai, rice and wheat, it was shown they produce more niacin, making the juice more beneficial. It was also found that Sunflower seeds contain the most B1, and along with barley and wheat seeds, they also contain the most niacin. The highest riboflavin was released by soybean seeds—a vitamin essential to a child's growth and necessary for the health of skin and eyes.

Today, more people have access to the health care they need when they need it, bringing peace of mind and financial security to individuals and families across the state.

If you have any questions or think you may qualify for the Oregon Health Plan, you should come visit the staff of Lake County Public Health while we are in your area! # 5th Annual CV Music Festival - August 12th

Wow, time sure flies! Hope everyone's ready for a day of Music, Food, Fun, and Refreshment.

The festival is back with some old and new musical friends. The bands this year include: Loose Change, Michael Manning, D.C. Malone and the Jones, and the Crazy Weasels. We are also excited to introduce some new musical friends to the mix: Alexa Wiley & the Wilderness, and The Ventilators. I think you're gonna thoroughly enjoy them. Alexa brings her own unique sound and song writing style that is truly special, and the Ventilators blend a Blues and rock style that will keep you moving.

We also have a special treat, appearing for the first, and probably last time, on a stage anywhere, "Funk Rougeou". This is a tribute band put together for our dear departed musical friend, Ben Rougeou. Many of you will remember him as the bass player for Ma Fondue. Ben was a huge supporter of what we are doing out here. We miss his warm smile and wit but we will remember him in music. Funk Rougeou will include many of the Ma Fondue regulars including "Geebs"—the fiery lead singer and "Mikey"—the keyboard player, among a cast of musicians focused on funk in it up NOLA (New Orleans) style, in memory of our beloved friend.

As with every year, this event wouldn't be possible without the generous support of our many sponsors and, of course, the community who comes out every year. The festival is on Saturday, August 12th and goes from 2:00 PM to 10:00 PM at Flowerree Memorial Park. Admission this year is $10.00 or what you want to "donate" to the kids. If you're a little short, then be our guests. So, invite your friends out for the weekend, dust off the comfy lawn chairs and prepare to eat, drink, and be merry.

We are also excited about presenting our first CVMF scholarship to this year's recipient to kick off "Funk Rougeou". I hope we see you all there to enjoy the music, support the kids, and share the day with your neighbors and friends.

If you are interested in being involved with a booth or to volunteer, feel free to give me a call: Earl Diment, 503-819-2417.

CHIHUAHUA DESERT - In the evening when the sun sets and the stars come out, a crackling camp fire gives warmth from its amber glow. With guitars strumming and voices humming, the desert is serenaded like a mother's lullaby. Peace like a blanket covers the mind and the spirit for one more night.

If you are looking for some time away from the house then come on out, and when possible bring the kids too - we are proud to say we are "Kid tested and mother approved", you won't hear a discouraging word.

DC MALONE & THE JONES - DC Malone's strong rhythm and finger picking styles along with an incredibly versatile voice leads the band. Bass guitar duties are handled by long-time music veteran Dale Turnbull. Lead guitar is handled by the amazing Derek Doggett. Keyboards are provided by truly gifted Mike Zilis whose years of jazz influences has given the band a unique flavor. Percussion is given up by Jason (boom boom) Moore who has anchored a great number of phenomenal bands over the years

Help Fill a Local Need Volunteer Your Time

Find something in your community that suits you. This community primarily functions through volunteers. We have many new community members and this community can benefit from a little bit of your time. The many new community members tax the already over stretched, long standing volunteers that oil the works of the under supported needs of the north end communities.

If you have questions of how you can help feel free to contact me, Glenna Wade, via Facebook [glennasonly] and I can help you find an activity that suits you.

Nearly two dozen energized Lego builders have been meeting weekly, refining their construction skills. Thoughts are turning toward the Lake County Fair in the fall, and what we should build as a TEAM for display there. Some have suggested a full size basketball hoop. Others said, "How 'bout a motorized rolling ball machine?" Another suggested a wearable suit of armor. What do YOU suggest? Please send any and all suggestions to: legomanusa@yahoo.com
